

Edward Meanley Artist's Biography

Edward Meanley is a member of the Pastel Society of Southeast Texas, the Brenham Fine Art League, and the Art League of Fort Bend. He and his wife live on a hobby farm, near Bellville, TX.

Ed started painting after he retired from his oil industry, geophysics career in 2001. He has sketched and taken artistic photographs since childhood, and he has applied artistic graphics to his geophysics imagery. These were helpful foundations for his painting. He has participated in numerous workshops and art classes. His Plein air painting experiences have expanded his scope and style.

Ed paints with oils, acrylics, watercolor and pastel. His topics include landscapes, cityscapes, still life, animals and figures. His style is mostly representative art with occasional abstract realism. He gets inspiration from local settings and world travels.
